三、克漏字測驗【請依照句子前後文意，選出最適當的答案】

第一篇：

Studies have shown that girls mature earlier than boys, the same way women do than men. It is reported that women reach proper psychological maturity much earlier than men, at the 31 age of 32. Men are said to mature 10—11 years later than women, which means that while women reach proper maturity by 30, men reach that point by 40. Maturity 32 that a person should reach a level of psychosocial development where he or she learns to act, reciprocate and make decisions while taking ownership of those actions. So if women mature earlier, does it mean they are 33 more mature? Women's brains are wired for social interactions. But this does not 34 they are more mature than men. A study shows that men are more emotionally mature than women 35 that they repress how they feel as society dictates them to act strong and manly.

The “OK” hand gesture, commonly seen as a way of indicating that all is well, has now been classified as something else: a symbol of hate. The Anti-Defamation League, a Jewish civil rights organization, added 36 symbols to its “Hate on Display” 36 including the index finger-to-thumb sign that in some corners of the Internet has become 37 with white supremacy and the far right.

Oren Segal, director of the ADL's Center on Extremism, said that for years on online message boards such as 4chan and 8chan, the “OK” sign has been used in memes and other images promoting hate. Given the number of white supremacists who have adopted it, he said it can now 38 a negative message. “Context is always key,” Segal said.

“More people than not will use the OK symbol as just ‘OK.’ But in those 39 where there's more underlining meaning, I think it's important for people to 40 that it could be used, and is being used, for hate as well.”

四、閱讀測驗【請依照段落上下文意，選出最適當的答案】

第一篇：

Poverty has long been a part of history, and, as a result, there have been various efforts to combat poverty in America. During the Great Depression, soup kitchens were established to help folks who couldn't afford meals. In the years that followed, more structured forms of government assistance have been implemented. As a result, this has required officials to define a poverty line based on income levels. So, how have government agencies gone about establishing a federal poverty level—and how has it changed over time?

As one can see in the federal government's official poverty level resources, there are three sets of guidelines. One set pertains to the 48 contiguous states (or continental) states; one applies to Alaska; and the third covers Hawaii. Both Alaska and Hawaii have separate guidelines because the cost of living in those states is so different. For example, it's more expensive to ship food and “common goods” to those states.

However, Puerto Rico and U.S. territories, such as the Virgin Islands, Guam, and Micronesia, do not have separate poverty guidelines. If a government agency that regularly uses poverty guidelines is operating in those territories, the agency has the authority to set specific guidelines for those territories on a project-by-project basis.

As of 2021, a household of one person who makes $12,000-$16,000 annually is considered impoverished. Moreover, a family of four that earns $26,000-$33,000 per year is currently considered to be living at the poverty level. While the guidelines stop at households of eight, additional people are counted by adding $4,500-$5,700 each to the allowable household annual income.

(1)41. What is the passage mainly about?

- (1) The set-up and the criteria of the poverty levels in the USA.
- (2) The reasons why poverty levels were set up by the U.S. government.
- (3) The guidelines for the U.S. to decide the poverty levels.
- (4) The efforts made by the U.S. government in helping the poor.

(4)42. Which of the following places is NOT included in the poverty guidelines set up by the federal government?

- | | | | |
|----------------|------------|------------|----------|
| (1) California | (2) Hawaii | (3) Alaska | (4) Guam |
|----------------|------------|------------|----------|

(3)43. Why do Alaska and Hawaii have their own separate official poverty guidelines?

- (1) Poverty is not considered as a serious problem there.
- (2) They were the last two states that joined the United States.
- (3) The living expenses in the two states are not the same as those in other states in the U.S.
- (4) They never experienced the Great Depression.

(2)44. What does the word “impoverished” in the last paragraph most likely mean?

- | | | | |
|--------------|---------------|-------------|-------------------|
| (1) famished | (2) very poor | (3) drastic | (4) uncomfortable |
|--------------|---------------|-------------|-------------------|

(4)45.How much does a family of five in the most expensive state probably have to make to be excluded from the poverty level?

(1)$16,000

(2)$26,000

(3)$37,000

(4)$38,700

第二篇：

It is true that the main reason why parents enroll their children in a school is to learn about academic subjects like math, history, science, and so on, but these are not the only things that children need to learn if they ever want to become successful in the real world. Character education gives them the necessary tools that they will be using more often than those that they learn from the other subjects.

Character education fosters the development of ethical and responsible individuals by teaching them about the good values that people should have. It teaches the students the values of caring about other people, honesty, responsibility, and other important traits that make for an upstanding citizen. Parents are not the only ones that need to be concerned in developing a student's character; the school and community should also have a role in this. These days, with most families, the children are often left alone with no one to guide them. This is why schools need to implement character education so that the students know the correct path they should walk on.

The need for character education lies in the fact that a sustained process of teaching, being shown examples of good character, and practicing what they learned are what's needed to instill good character traits in students. And since students spend most of their time at school, it is the perfect place to instill moral values in them. The reason for teaching good character is to help prepare the students to face the many opportunities and unknown dangers that are in today's society. Character education gives the students the knowledge they need to know what these dangers in society are and to deal with them properly.

(4)46.What is the passage mainly about?

(1)How to instill good morals in students

(2)What students should learn in school

(3)Who should be responsible for character education

(1)48.According to the passage, whose responsibility is it to instill good character traits in students?

(1)Parents, school, and community

(2)Parents or legal guardians

(3)Teachers in school

(4)Students' family members

(1)49.Which of the following is NOT needed for successful character education?

(1)Parental monitoring to ensure high scores on all tests

(2)Opportunities to practice the good values students have learned

(3)Continuous teaching of good values

(4)Showing students examples of good character

(4)50.What can be inferred from the passage?

(1)The media gives lots of negative influences to students.

(2)Students are facing more pressure from school nowadays.

(3)Nowadays parents have a lot more time to spend with children.

(4)Good character traits can be more valuable than academic knowledge in real life.
