二〇二〇年八月，我個人滿六十歲了，正式進入「□□□□」，我跟周邊的朋友一樣，聚餐時最常聊的話題，就是準備退休囉！剛好遇到COVID-19疫情，公司採取AB居家輪班制，我整個禮拜在家上班，平常忙得不可開交的拜會、餐會都停止了，在家空閒時間突然大增，整天晃來晃去無所事事，家人看不下去，建議我，你平常休閒時不是很喜歡寫毛筆練書法嗎？為什麼現在都沒看你動筆呢？一語驚醒夢中人，我才突然發覺，忙的時候練書法，叫做休閒。一旦整天休閒，練書法就變工作了！所以，千萬不要為了休閒而退休，退休後就沒有真正的休閒了！

(2)15.本文□□□□中，最適合填入：

(1)古稀之年

(2)耳順之年

(3)知命之年

(4)從心之年

(4)16.下列敘述何者最接近本文意旨？

(1)於退休後不宜再練習書法

(2)勤練書法也可以是好工作

(3)在家上班切不可偷懶休閒

(4)休閒在退休後性質會大變

(2)17.李清照名作：「紅藕香殘玉簫秋。輕解羅裳，獨上蘭舟。雲中誰寄錦書來，雁字回時，月滿西樓。／花自飄零水自流。一種相思，兩處閒愁。此情無計可消除，才下眉頭，卻上心頭。」有關本文的解說，下列敘述何者錯誤？

(1)「紅藕香殘玉簫秋」暗示天氣已逐漸變為涼爽

(2)「雲中誰寄錦書來」意指捎來書信之人在外事業成功

(3)「一種相思，兩處閒愁」猜想離別的雙方都在思念彼此

(4)「才下眉頭，卻上心頭」表示相思會隨時出現無法刻意排除

四、閱讀測驗【請在下列各題中選出最適當的答案】

Once upon a time, there was a land where robotic bears helped lift the elderly out of bed and into wheelchairs. In this land , machine seals comforted lonely people and formed an essential part of elderly care. Is this science fiction? Not in Japan. These robots already exist, and you may actually experience them as you get older. These examples of state-of-the-art technology are helping to solve a big problem for the Japanese – that of taking care of their senior citizens.

It is estimated that 40% of the population in Japan will be over 65 by 2055. At the same time, there will be an approximately 16% decrease in the size of the workforce by 2030. This shortage of labor presents a grave challenge: Who will look after all the people in their golden years? There are simply not enough younger people to care for the older population. And with the breakdown of traditional family responsibilities, a growing number of elderly are living away from their families and the family care they have been given in the past.

Robots to the rescue! Mechanized beds that are controlled by voice can change from a bed to a wheelchair on command. Robotic bear nurses can lift patients who weigh up to 135 pounds (61 kilos). And for comfort and companionship, soft robotic pet seals have been designed to show emotions with facial expressions, movement, noises, and responses to touch. These are just a few of the inventions that are so promising toward a future of elderly care assisted by robots.

(3)46. What is the most appropriate title for this article?

- (1) Human vs. Machine: Dilemma for Senior Population in Japan
- (2) Latest Prospects of Robotics in Looking after Japanese Families
- (3) Robots in Reality: A Helping Hand for Japan's Aging Society
- (4) AI Has It All: Robotic Animals Replace Human Care-givers

(4)47. According to the article, what is true about Japan's population, workforce or society?

- (1) People over 65 years old will account for half of the country's population within 30 years.
- (2) The insufficient number of younger people has led to the dependence on foreign workers.
- (3) Labor force will surge slightly over 15% in less than a decade.
- (4) Newer generations don't see it as their duty to live with and take care of their parents.

(1)48. Which of the following functions of robots is NOT mentioned in the article?

- (1) Conversing with people
- (2) Adjusting their forms and functions
- (3) Reacting to people's pats
- (4) Hoisting people up

(4)49. What does the phrase on command (in the last paragraph) most likely mean?

- (1) having self-control
- (2) predicting people's needs
- (3) doing things skillfully
- (4) following instructions

(2)50. How is the author's tone in ending the article?

- (1) Anxious
- (2) Upbeat
- (3) Sentimental
- (4) Reluctant
